Before going into the hospital for some planned surgery, Elba Police Chief Jack Parker discussed a few of his frustrations and law enforcement problems. Foremost on his mind was the handicapped parking spaces inside the courthouse square. Jack explained that there is nothing the Elba police can do about this right now. The property is county owned and controlled, therefore any violations and/or disrespect for the handicapped will have to be addressed by the county commissioners. Our suggestion is that if you see someone abusing the handicapped zones within the courthouse property, call a county commissioner immediately.

Should we or shouldn't we... allow uncontrolled influx of immigrants from Haiti and Cuba or any country for that matter. America was settled by people from every spot on the globe who were looking for a better life (plus the slaves). Even the indentured servants dreamed of a better life in America, which often escaped them. Each of us can trace our ancestors to just such a couple. The flip side is filled with horror stories of people immigrating to America and becoming masters at abusing our already overburdened welfare system. We have on our desk an article about a large Boston family of immigrants ranking in a million bucks a year from the American welfare system. Granted, this particular story comes from the National Enquirer, but it has a ring of truth in it. We have all seen healthy adults who could hold a paying job if they didn't enjoy "being on the draw." However, if we limit new immigrants to only those with plenty of money and/or skills, we would still be going against a policy which developed this great country. The answer is not an easy one and probably is even harder for Americans with close relatives who are potential immigrants.

While Americans are arguing about the immigrants, President Clinton is making overtones about invading Haiti to rout the military government presently running the country. More and more Americans are wanting to ignore the problems of the world and just take care of our own. Add to that Bill Clinton's avoidance of military service during the Vietnam War and Bill has a first class public relations problem!

Governor Jim Folsom made a politicking swing through Elba last week. It was a whistle stop visit, but he did have time for some small talk. He reminded us of his visits during the July flooding, etc. Folsom came in from Opp and Andalusia, on Highway 84... right by Dorsey Trailers and the Elba home place. This got him to talking about visits to Aunt Thelma's and our mouth watering for a piece of her delicious pound cake. Oh the Governor Big Jim Folsom, was visiting in Elba and she was just taking a fresh warm cake out of the oven.

Forbes magazine published an indepth report on prepaid college tuition programs which are active in a number of states, including Alabama. Our program was pushed by George Wallace Jr., but the writers for Forbes reported some horror stories and pointed out the path for hundreds of others. A couple of the state plans have already run into trouble, with one being frozen by a new governor until the mess can be straightened out. The plans make real good politics, but are economically dangerous (potential) tax drains to the taxpayers... and that is before the IRS steps in (maybe) and taxes the tuition money just as the students are entering college. The feds are actually in court over this little hitch right now.

Actress Jessica Tandy died this past weekend. We joined the many Americans who fell in love with her in the movie "Driving Miss Daisy." She could have been anyone's mother or grandmother and played a great part perfectly.

Congressman Terry Everett

How Military Academy Appointments Are Made

Last week, I introduced you to the United States military academies and discussed the process by which candidates may apply to my office for a nomination.

I conclude this week with the application process, discussing the appointment which is the final step necessary for admission to a U.S. military academy.

Upon receipt of my slate of nominees, the U.S. military academies begin their final evaluation process of the candidates.

This process includes a medical exam, an interview with a local admissions officer, and a fitness test with minimum requirements for push-ups, pull-ups, etc. These requirements are slightly altered for women.

Based on the results of these tests, the academies select the candidate or candidates best suited for the rigors of military life and challenging academics. They are then offered an appointment.

Candidates who are well-balanced in athletics, academics, and extra-curricular activities are the strongest candidates. For example, many applicants are often surprised to learn that if they have straight "A's," but have never participated in athletics, they are likely to be rejected.

From January through May, I receive official notification of those nominees actually selected for an academy appointment.

The academies are required to select at least one of my slate of ten nominees to fulfill the geographical requirement, and often choose more.

After appointment, the candidates are required to report to their academy in July. Sometimes candidates receive appointments to more than one academy, and have to spend time evaluating each before selecting.

For those not selected for appointment, there is always next year. They can be admitted to the academies until age 22, as long as they are not married or supporting children.

I always advise applicants to make alternative plans in case they are not selected. They may attend college for one year, strengthen their math and science skills, and reapply. The academies are very interested in candidates with an extra year of maturity.

U.S. military academies will sometimes offer candidates a year at their prep school, instead of regular admission. Candidates are virtually assured acceptance upon successful completion of prep school.

The only way for a civilian to be admitted to a U.S. military academy prep school is to apply through the regular admissions process. Prep school offers are determined only by the academy's admissions offices.

To qualify for admission to one of the United States military academies, a student must be sure to apply early so that all required materials are received before my November 2, 1994 deadline.

If you will be a senior in 1995, start the process right now, and contact my congressional office at: 208 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515-0102, or your high school guidance counselor for information.

The 1994 Elba FFA, Meeting the Challenges of Tomorrow

by Heather Dubose, Reporter
 The FFA was founded in 1928. This year, Elba's FFA is continuing the organization's tradition. This year's officer team is: President Bo Boyd, Vice-President Charles Bozeman, Secretary Melissa Hall, Treasurer Cory Howe, Reporter Heather Dubose, Sentinel Trey Lawless, and Advisor Mr. Brian Heaton. The primary aim of the FFA is the development of agricultural leadership, citizenship, and citizenship. Elba's FFA Chapter will hold a meeting the third Wednesday of each month. All officers are open to any suggestions concerning the FFA. We hope this will be a very progressive and exciting year.

Consistent Comfort

Heating and air conditioning contractor Benny Palmer installs Good Cents systems.

□ Heating and air conditioning contractor Benny Palmer believes in the value of quality duct work systems, and his many satisfied homeowners illustrate that fact. Palmer's company has sold heat pumps since 1967, and last year his company sold approximately 300 units.

□ "The key to consumer comfort is a properly designed heating and cooling system that meets Good Cents standards," says Palmer.

And The Band Played On...

by Carrie Bradley
 It is traditional that every week, a section in the band that has shown great improvement or outstanding ability, is chosen as Section of the Week. This week the outstanding section of the band is the colorguard. The members of the EHS colorguard are: Donna DeBoer, Captain; Crystal Layton, Co-Captain; Nicole Kobinson; Margo Moody; Gayla Long; and Mica Fanning. These girls have spent countless hours learning their routine. The EHS colorguard members have been busy all summer having car washes, bake sales, and garage sales, raising money to buy their uniforms. Thanks to all the support they had, they were able to purchase their uniforms. Congratulations to the EHS colorguard for a job well done!

Tiger Talk

by Jonathan Ross

On the night of September 1, Elba High School crowned new Tiger Football players. Rejoicing as Miss Tiger Football is Sasha Kidd, a junior at Elba High School. Leslie Stinson, a seventh grade student, captured the title of Jr. Miss Tiger Football. I had the opportunity to speak with them and get their thoughts on being a Tiger Football player.
Tiger Talk: "Why did you enter Miss Tiger Football?"
Sasha: "I entered Miss Tiger Football because I thought that it would be a fun and exciting experience for me."
Leslie: "I would like to thank both of these lovely young ladies for their time. Tiger Talk wishes them the best in their year as Miss and Jr. Miss Tiger Football."

???Question??? Corner

by Dawn Grimes & Cary Clark
 Change is always scary. We have all had to start something new and we were always a little afraid, whether we show it or not. So, we decided to ask the new seventh graders what part of high school has been the scariest for them. We received a wide variety of replies. Some are frightened by major dilemmas, while others are more frightened by small details.
Cory Cook: "The teachers and classes and other people older than me, but it is turning out okay."
Justin Walker: "The scariest part of the seventh grade for me is going to lunch."
Adolphus Washington: "P.E., science, current events, and health questions."
Rory Vignola: "My locker and my teachers!"
Nicholas Branson: "The scariest part was meeting the teachers."
Melissa Grantham: "Walking in that first morning was the scariest part so far."
Lindsey Jared: "The scariest part of the seventh grade has been the fear of being late."
Cory Cooper: "Being afraid I was going to tick off some BIG senior!"
Erica Wilkerson: "Getting in a fight with other children."

Elba Students Sleepless In Seattle

by Elena Strong

For five fun-filled days, sleep was a low priority for three Elba High School students in Seattle, Washington. Anna Stokes, Elena Strong, and Shea Ward were invited to represent Alabama at the National Student Safety Program July 9-13. These three girls are Elba High School delegates to the Governor's Youth Traffic Safety Council from which national conference attendees are chosen, each year. Last summer, Elena and Anna represented Alabama and were hostesses at the conference which was held in Huntsville. After a five and one-half hour flight to Tacoma, Washington, the students were transported to Pacific Lutheran University where the conference was held. Each day was spent learning how to inform the public of safety facts and how to deal with the hazardous situations of today's society. Many speakers enlightened the students through their personal stories and touching pictures. This group of 500 students was selected to preview and critique a safety video which will soon be aired on MTV. The large group was divided for workshops during the week. Alabama hosted over 100 people for a workshop in which Elena was asked to make a presentation. The information taught about highway and bicycle safety, crime, violence, and drug abuse was beneficial by making students aware of problem sources and how to deal with them.
 Of course, some room was left on the itinerary for recreational activities. At the end of each night, a special event was planned. One night the group was treated to an ice cream sundae bar. For two nights, a local radio station provided music for a dance. On the last night, the annual banquet was held in which a band entertained everyone, awards were given, and a slide show was presented. The highlight of the entire trip, for most, was the dinner cruise. The group was based to Puget Sound to board a ship. Hours of dancing, eating, and gazing at the Seattle skyline made that night unforgettable.
 Alabama was definitely the most famous state attending the conference. People were constantly begging Alabama delegates to say "in fair for course, making fun of the word 'y'all' and asking if any Alabamians were, by chance, related to Forrest Gump.

Elba FBLA Receives Awards & Recognition

Girls Volleyball

by Ramey Bryan

Football is the first thing that comes to mind when people think of fall sports, but Elba High School has something new to offer. Girls Volleyball is in its second year in Elba. The team is coached by Susan Barnes and Pam Higgins, and consists of twenty-four girls. The girls attended camp August 13 and 14 in the Elba Gym. After the first session, which the Lady Tigers won four games, the team is confident and looking forward to the upcoming season. They play their first game September 22, in New Brockton. Please come out and support the Lady Tigers.

FHA Elects Officers

by Pam Johnson

Nicole Stokes has been elected president of the Zion Chapel High School Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America (FHA).
 The other officers of FHA are Hanna Whit, vice president; Julie Carter, secretary; Ashley Nelson, reporter; Nena Williams, historian; Angie Seacat, parliamentarian; and Amanda Sanders and Elizabeth Bedsole, recreational leaders.
 Vice President Hanna Whit, a sophomore, said that her duties were primarily to fulfill the duties of the president in the case of the president's absence. When asked what she was going to do for the FHA, Hanna said, "I want to help make the FHA the best club it can be."

Historian Nena Williams, a freshman, said, "I want to contribute to making Zion Chapel's Chapter of FHA a winning chapter." Nena says her duties include collecting articles about the FHA and to make a scrapbook to record the history of the FHA this year.
 Parliamentarian Angie Seacat, also a freshman, said that as parliamentarian she has to make sure order is maintained in a meeting and that parliamentary procedure is followed at all times. "I want to make FHA a strong organization," said Angie.
 Recreational Leader Amanda Sanders said that as recreational leader she helps plan activities for FHA. Her goal is to get more students involved in the club.
 Ms. Joan Hobbs is the sponsor.

ESJC HAPPENINGS

ESJC's Fall Quarter Begins

Fall quarter begins at Enterprise State Junior College on September 19. Registration is now in progress. It is easy to register and ESJC staff stand by ready to assist you through every step. ESJC's low tuition of $220.00 per credit hour (plus fees) is small compared to the investment made for your future. For more information about registering for fall quarter classes, call 393-ESJC, ext. 233 today.

Orientation Sessions At ESJC

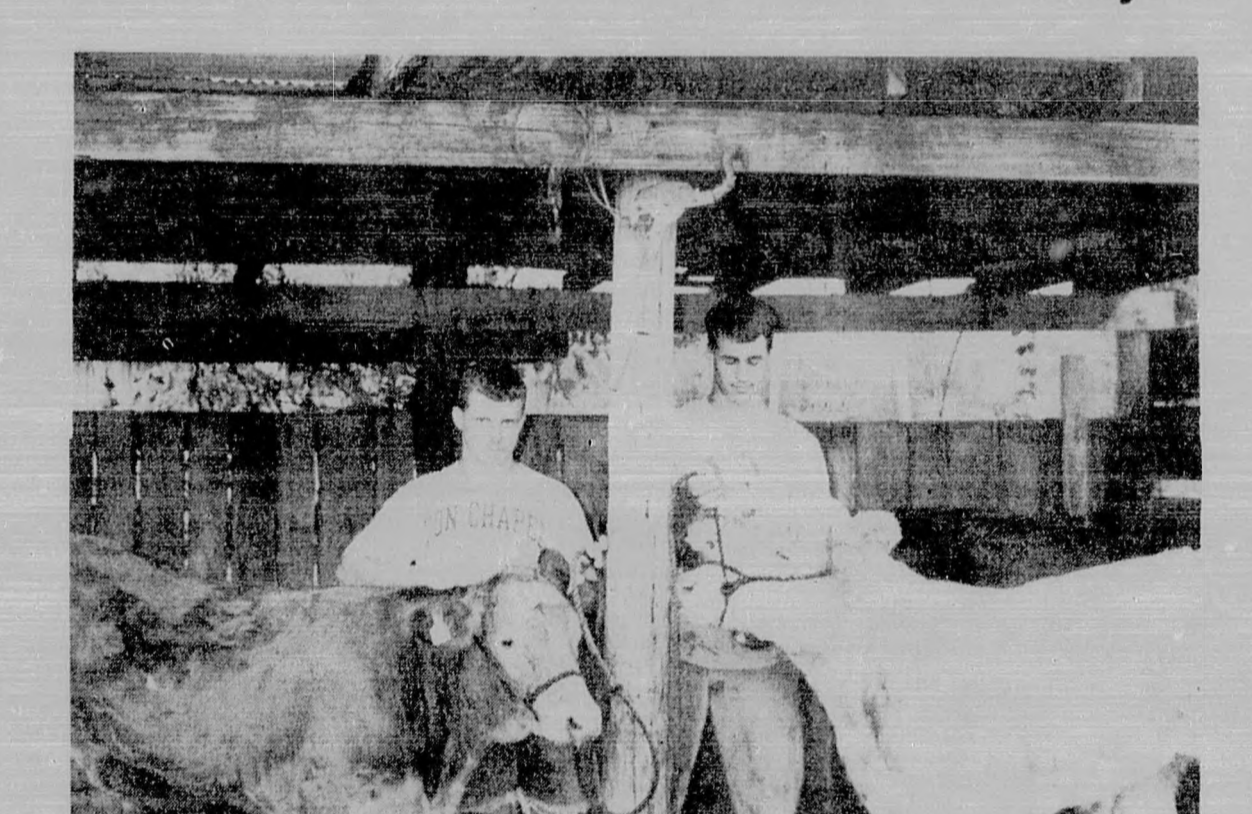

Enterprise State Junior College requires all first-time students to take orientation. It is not too late for these students to sign up for an orientation session if they plan to attend classes this fall quarter. Fall quarter begins September 19. ESJC's award-winning orientation program is a fun way to assist new students with the transition to college life. In the orientation program, students will learn how to figure their Grade Point Average, will discuss policies and procedures, will learn how to use their transfer guides, and will be introduced to clubs and activities. They will also learn about such topics as "Cultural Diversity," "Selecting a Degree," and "Financial Aid." Students will receive the ESJC Yellow Pages containing campus directory information as well as valuable coupons. To reserve a place in an upcoming orientation session, call Mrs. Betty Cully at 393-ESJC, ext. 292.

ACT Exam at ESJC

Anyone interested in preparing for the ACT exam should enroll now for Enterprise State Junior College's ACT Exam Preparation course for English and Reading. There will be two sessions which will give students information about the exam and review test taking techniques. English usage, mechanics, rhetorical skills and practice and review for reading comprehension and science reasoning. Books must be purchased at the cost of approximately $8.50 and may be purchased from the ESJC Bookstore. The registration deadline is September 20 and the class will meet September 27 and 29 from 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. The fee is $15 and the class is limited to 30 students. Call 393-ESJC, ext. 218 for more information.

Zion Chapel FFA Members Have Calf Projects

by Shay Nelson
 Kevin Hobbs and Thomas Cauley, members of Zion Chapel's FFA, are conducting a calf project that they started during the summer.
 Kevin and Thomas, under the supervision of FFA Sponsor John McCrory, will show their calves at the FFA convention. During a calf show competition, a calf is judged on conformation. The person showing the calf is judged on how well the calf is groomed and how well trained the calf is. This is called showmanship. Showmanship includes how well behaved the calf is in the ring and how well the calf responds to the instructions given by the student.

 Kevin and Thomas said that they walk, feed, water, bathe, blow dry, entertain, and brush their calves everyday. The first step they had to complete was to get their calves to trust them. During the beginning of the training period, before the calf trusted him, Thomas was kicked by the FFA pound calf. This made him work harder on developing trust.

Since the beginning of school, members of the junior class have elected class officers, started their annual magazine sale, and gotten their class rings.
 The class officers are Celeste Richards, president; Waylon Littlefield, vice president; Roy Stewart, secretary; and Susan Bryan, treasurer.
 Two weeks ago the class started their annual magazine sale. This sale is to raise money for the 1995 Junior-Senior Prom. Each junior has an individual goal of $100. The class goal is $6000.
 Rusty Parker, a representative from Ballou, delivered to the Zion Chapel Class of 1994, their class rings on August 23. This year the members of the junior class were able to get their signatures engraved on the backside of their rings.

Views From THE PRESSBOX By Ricky Mulazr, Sports Editor

Elba played its home opener last week and both Melissa and Melanie were in the stands cheering for the Elba Tigers. The girls both had on the "Elba Tiger" t-shirts and were dressed in black and gold, and both got down on the field prior to the game to be in the victory line. The lopsided loss to T.R. Miller may have upset a lot of Tiger fans; however, these two cheered until the final horn and were still big Tiger fans even after the game!

ELBATIGERS SIMPLY NO MATCH FOR T.R. MILLER

The Elba Tigers seemed flat early in the game against the T.R. Miller Tigers and were even flatter after the game as the talented 4A Tigers from Brockton manhandled Elba 34-14, in a game that really wasn't as close as the lopsided score would even indicate.

The 34 points were bad enough, but T.R. Miller lost a fumble at the Elba 3-yardline, had a touchdown called back, lost a fumble at the Elba 20-yardline and lost another fumble at the Elba 42. I know that Elba caused the fumbles with hard hits and made the breaks; however, if Miller hadn't fumbled it might have scored in the mid-40's. The 14 points scored by Elba made the score sound a little bit better, but then too, the Tigers were all but handed a late touchdown when Miller took out its entire first string defense. When a team loses 34-14 it is a pretty good indication just how much better one team is than another. Friday night T.R. Miller was at least that much better than Elba, if not more.

The Elba offense was almost non-existent in the first half against Miller, due mainly to the fact that the defense put everybody at the line of scrimmage and came after the Elba offense with reckless abandon. The Tigers couldn't run wide against the quick Miller defenders, didn't have time to number at the point of attack. The absence of Che Vaughan may have hurt, but Chris Hudson is a gutsy performer and is more than capable of leading the offense up and down the field. It wasn't the quarterback, it was the Miller defense and the inability of Elba to handle its aggressive-ness. The Tigers did play some power football in the second half and had some success running straight ahead against the Miller defense. The Elba line was able at times to overpower its opponents and gained some measure of confidence in the final two quarters. It was just too late to matter.

The Elba defense got roughed up for the second straight week and never seemed to be in the right place at the right time. When the Tigers would load up at the line Miller would pass down the field, and when the Tigers laid back the Miller backs would break through and head downfield for big gains. Elba never seemed to be in the right scheme to stop the talented Miller offensive unit, and if it was, the talented Miller quarterback simply put the ball on the money to one of his many receivers. Rudy Free caught my eye and seemed to pick up his intensity midway through the second quarter. Free, a junior, had a big hit on a punt and from then on played like a man possessed. I saw an overall winning performance, but maybe it was a wake up call for Free that will spread to the rest of the defense.

Summing up the loss, it was simply an old-fashioned whipping, and the kind of whipping that will make a team take a long look at itself and either pull together, or throw in the towel. I think that everyone who knows anything about Elba Tiger football knows better than to think the players will throw in the towel. Elba is a much better team than it has shown thus far in the season and the time is now for the players to take a step forward and decide among themselves that it is time to pick up the intensity, both on practice and in the games. Players don't play for the coaches, the fans, their girlfriends or their parents. They play for themselves, and it is time for the players to dig down and find that inner-drive that makes Elba Tigers something special. It is there...it just needs to come out!

KINSTON GRABS AREA SPOTLIGHT WITH UPSET

Last week may have been only week #12 in high school football, but it was a mighty big week for all the teams in the local area as all the teams went in with something to prove. Probably the biggest winner was Kinston, which pulled itself up after a lopsided loss and stunned Zion Chapel, but Brantley and New Brockton also had big wins. Here's a quick look back...

KINSTON (1-1) was given up for dead by many after falling to Freeport 27-0 in the opening week, but the Bulldogs knew they were better than everybody thought and showed it last week by knocking off Zion Chapel 7-6. The Bulldogs went back to the basics and played hard nosed football against the Rebels, controlling both the clock and the momentum throughout the game. Sometimes one win can work wonders, and while Kinston can't rest and enjoy last week's win, it can learn from the win and remember what it took to be victorious. It could come in handy down the road.

ZION CHAPEL (1-1) fell off its cloud last week and all of the sudden are put in a "must win" situation as the playoffs are concerned. The Rebels lost a couple of players last week to nagging injuries and the result was major changes as the Rebels tried to fill in the holes. This week the Rebels face their toughest challenge of the year and they must win, or else they fall to 0-2 with only one Area game left on the schedule. Times change in a hurry.

NEW BROCKTON (1-1) buckled the chinstraps a little tighter on defense and once again turned the offense loose as it posted a surprisingly easy win over talented G.W. Long 27-3. The Gamecocks had enough positives in their loss to Arton to come back and improve, and it showed as the Gamecocks improved in almost every area. The season is still young, but if the Gamecocks stay healthy and keep their heads screwed on straight, it could be the start of something big.

BRANTLEY (1-1) came back to the 2A ranks and had an easy time whipping Red Level 39-13. The Bulldogs aren't quite back to where they were a year ago, and it could take some time. However, the Bulldogs are determined to win big and seem to have more than enough talent to do just that. It's going to be interesting.

STATES' RANKED TEAMS FALL ON HARD TIMES

It only took two weeks for the upset bug to begin its trip across the state, and if last week was any indication of what to expect, the virus could hit epidemic status even earlier than usual. Here's a quick check at the clinics across the state...

CLASS 6A - Second-ranked Central, of Phenix City, was stunned by 5A Smith Station 7-6 and all of the sudden the Red Devils don't look as bad as everyone thought. #1 Robert E. Lee pounded Pascagoula, Ms., 47-8, and raised a few eyebrows in the process, while #3 Enterprise slipped past Dothan 26-25 in overtime, and #8 Jeff Davis edged Sanhope Elmore 17-6. Not many fans noticed, but Selma went 2-0 under Coach Woodrow Lowe with a 5-0 win over Keith.

CLASS 5A - They were rocking up in Anniston as the 6A Bulldogs outscored #1 Oxford 34-20 for bragging rights. #3 Greenville spanked 6A Ozark 28-0 and now has two wins over 6A teams in two tries, while #5 Blount found life tough in the Wiregrass as 6A power Northview blanked the Leopards 14-0. Opp got in the win column with a stunning 31-7 romp past Charles Henderson.

CLASS 4A - #1 Pike County discovered the hard way that Central, of Tuscaloosa, was 1 impressed with the "dog pound" as the 6A Falcons dominated the Bulldogs 17-6. Second-ranked Daleville survived a scare from Eufaula and won 24-21, while #9 Manford was blanked by Walter Wellborn 9-0. Locally, Dale County went to 2-0 with a 43-7 whipping of Rehobeth.

CLASS 3A - #1 Colbert County had an easy time with Colbert Heights, winning 48-22, while #2 St. Paul's struggled for the second straight week, but edged past lowly McIntosh 16-0. Former power Southem Chocoma fell to 0-2 as it was shutout 19-0 by 2A Leroy, and closer to home, Laverne improved to 2-0 with a big 21-7 win over Goshen.

CLASS 2A - Top-ranked Hazelwood had a fight on its hands before holding off Danville 20-15, while #2 St. Clair County got bounced by West End 20-6. Fifth-ranked Trinity was clobbered by 1A Nottulsga 27-3 and #7 Sanson went to 2-0 with an easy 40-7 win over Houston Academy. Locally, Geneva County ripped Coffee Springs 31-8 and Straughn edged Wickburg 9-8.

CLASS 1A - Top-ranked Nottulsga easily whipped 2A power Trinity 27-3, while #4 Arton upped its scoring average to 50.5 with a 53-14 romp over Louisville and Autaugaaville bombed St. Jude 45-0. Closer to home, Kinston won its second game in two years with a 7-6 upset over Zion Chapel.

ALABAMA & AUBURN PROVE LITTLE IN WINS

Alabama and Auburn both went 2-0 over the weekend with wins over lesser opponents; however, both teams proved little in claiming the wins. Alabama scored late to subdue pesky, but outmanned Vanderbilt, 17-7. The Tide shouldn't even count it as a win. It wasn't a loss and shouldn't count as such, but Alabama's performance against Vandy was anything but a winning one. I wonder how long the coaches will wait before they pull Jay Barker on offense. Barker may be the best kid in the world, but his mobility is lacking and maybe now is the time to try something new. But, I doubt it!

Auburn had an easy time with Northeast Louisiana and could have won by much more had it wanted to. The Tigers did get the chance to play a lot of folks, and used more than one quarterback since Patrick Nix had a decent day. The Tigers have a quarterback controversy, whether they want to admit it or not, and it won't go away by ignoring it.

POLISH PROGNOSTICATOR PLEASED? NOT!

Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator was not a happy camper Sunday afternoon when he stopped by the office to leave this week's picks. He hit on 30 of 39 picks and stands at 55-17 (76%) for the year, but missed on Cottonwood, Rehobeth, Stocomb and Geneva, and was griping about how weak most of the teams are, which makes it almost impossible to pick the teams over in the Wiregrass Conference. He wouldn't answer any questions about Elba, but did leave this week's picks...

Elba still looking for first win of season

Tigers brace for second ranked Georgiana

The Elba Tigers will still be looking for their first win of the young season on Friday night when they host the highly-touted Georgiana Panthers, the #2 ranked team in the state in Class 2A. The Elba will stumble into the game with an 0-2 record after losses to Charles Henderson 21-20 and T.R. Miller 34-14, while Georgiana will enter the contest with a 1-0 slate after an opening week win over McKenzie 21-0, and an open date.

The Tigers' Coach Mack Wood, were expected to have one of their finest teams in years this season and were picked to be a 3A title contonder. However, the Elba defense has been pushed around the field in the opening two losses and the offense struggled in week #2 after the opening quarter back Che

Vaughan.

Elba's defense was supposed to be a strong point this season, but after two games the defense is allowing over 27 points per game, and is giving up over 275 yards per game on the ground. The Tigers loaded up the front in week #2 in an attempt to shore up the defense against the run, only to allow almost 160 yards through the air and two easy touchdowns.

The Elba defense, once thought to be a strength, is now a question mark, and is no doubt one of the major disappointments of the young season.

Elba's offense showed signs of life in the opening week loss and rolled up over 300 yards in total offense against SA Charles Henderson; however, last week with quarterback Che Vaughan on the sidelines with an illness, the offense never seemed able to get anything going and managed only 143 total yards.

Chris Tyson, who has now gained 294 yards on 51 carries, came to life against T.R. Miller in the second half, and fullback Detrick Kyles scored two touchdowns. Quarterback Chris Hudson directed the Tiger attack, but at times was running for his life as the Miller defense loaded up and made life miserable for the talented youngsters.

The Elba offense was out-quickened at the line and out-hit throughout the game, making times hard for the unit during all four quarters.

While the Elba players are bruised and battered after the tough two opening losses, Georgiana will be well rested this week after having an open date following the Panthers' season-opening 21-0 blanking of McKenzie.

The Panthers posted the school's first undefeated season in 22 years in 1993 and defeated Elba along the way 27-20, but lost in the third round of the playoffs. The Panthers are hungry to win a state championship.

"We came up short of our goal last season," said Coach Shayne Wasden, "and for that reason I wasn't satisfied and I know our players weren't either!"

The second-ranked Panthers lost a number of key players off last year's 12-1 club; however, Coach Wasden is confident that the '94 team will be successful.

"I feel like we had a real good spring and I was certainly pleased with the effort we had," added Wasden. "This is a good bunch of kids and they don't mind working hard."

Georgiana is led offensively by quarterback Rondale Williams, who had a 42-yard touchdown pass and a six-yard touchdown run in the opening win over McKenzie, while Willie Peterson, a returnee at halfback, gained 105 yards in 12 carries in week #1.

The expected strength on the offensive side of the football for the Panthers this season is the offensive line, where four starters return, including tight-end Adrian Rich, who caught last week's 42-yard TD strike.

"They're not very big," said Coach Wasden, "but they are physical and quick, and I'll take that over big and slow any time."

Georgiana returns seven starters from last year's defense that recorded seven shutouts in '93 and Wasden stated "They have as much ability as last year's defense."

Leading the way on defense for the Panthers will be noseguard Daryl Bethal, tackles Ezell Powell and Demetrius Brown, defensive-end Adrian Rich and linebackers Jermaine Gandy, DeCarlo Robinson and Harry Gilmore.

The Elba Tigers have had problems stopping their opponents in the opening two losses, and Georgiana may very well be the quickest team the Tigers have faced. Elba's depth could be a factor in the second half; however, it will take the Tigers' finest effort of the season to have a chance to chalk up win #1 against the talented and aggressive Panthers.

Forget the records when these two meet. It should be a classic!

Elba's D'undray Peterson (33) finds a hole in the T.R. Miller defense and eyes a big gain. The Tigers managed only 143 yards in total offense in the 34-14 loss that left Elba with an 0-2 record.

ELBA VS. GEORGIANA

The Elba Tigers are 0-2 and have given up 55 points in two games, while #2 ranked Georgiana is loaded, whipped the Tigers last season, and is 1-0 after an easy 21-0 win in its opes. All odds point toward another Elba loss and it's hard to beat the odds. However, the Tigers are overdue and this could be the week they wake up and get win #1!

ELBA 20 GEORGIANA 17

NEW BROCKTON VS. ZION CHAPEL

These two teams appeared to be headed in different directions after the opening week, and the same was definitely true after week #2. The Gamecocks are excited about the rest of the season and are improving, while Zion Chapel is headed the opposite way. This one may not even be close!

NEW BROCKTON 26 ZION CHAPEL 8

KINSTON VS. FLORALA

The Bulldogs got in the win column in a big way last week and are thinking playoffs, but one win doesn't make a season and the Bulldogs still have a lot to prove. Kinston has a chance if it plays perfect; however, nothing is perfect and the Cats may have too much speed.

FLORALA 20 KINSTON 12

BRANTLEY VS. GOSHEN

These two rivals have always gone at each other tooth and nail, and this year will be no different as both teams are now in the same area. Brantley here will be the team that can make, and also avoid, the big play.

Miller manhandles Elba 34-14

Tigers take a tumble

By Ricky Mulazr, Sports Editor

The Elba Tigers dodged two bullets in the opening stanza, but then got rattled for three touchdowns in the second quarter and never recovered as they were manhandled by the T.R. Miller Tigers 34-14, Friday night in Elba.

The loss dropped Elba's record to 0-2, while T.R. Miller improved to 2-0 with the win.

Miller kicked off to open the game, but got the ball right back at its 24-yardline following an Elba punt, and wasted little time showing the large crowd on hand just what kind of night it was going to be!

A 51-yard pass from John Hart to Jason Madden and a 16-yard pass from Hart to Anthony Carmichael were key plays as Miller drove to a first down at the Elba 4-yardline. A penalty moved Miller back to the nine, and one play later Elba dodged what looked like a certain Miller score as Todd Hooks jarred the football loose from a Miller runner and Daniel Kidd recovered at the 3-yardline.

Miller got the ball right back three plays later on another Elba punt and once again headed toward the Tigers' goaline.

Elba's Daniel Kidd (61) puts a jarring tackle on a T.R. Miller runner. The Elba defense held Miller to 13 second half points in last week's loss.

Elba's Todd Hooks (60), Cory Howe (86), Bo Boyd (75) and Chris Tyson (20) combine to stop a Miller runner for a short gain in last week's 34-14 loss to T.R. Miller.

Elba's D'undray Peterson (33) finds a hole in the T.R. Miller defense and eyes a big gain. The Tigers managed only 143 yards in total offense in the 34-14 loss that left Elba with an 0-2 record.

Tigers take a tumble

By Ricky Mulazr, Sports Editor

A 30-yard scamper by Tristan Moore appeared to put Miller on the scoreboard; however, a penalty nullified the TD and the Tigers had dodged a second Miller scoring threat.

The penalty proved to only delay the Miller touchdown, as one play later John Hart tossed a 21-yard scoring strike to Jeremy Bradley to put the visitors on the board. Jason Madden added the extra-point and with 11:51 left in the second quarter T.R. Miller had the lead 7-0.

The Elba defense dodged yet another bullet early in the second stanza when Cory Howe recovered a Miller fumble at the Elba 20-yardline, but Miller got the ball back after an 11-yard punt and on its first play got back into the endzone as Ashley Kiser took a handoff, bounced outside and raced undercutted Miller back to the nine, and one play later Elba dodged what looked like a certain Miller score as Todd Hooks jarred the football loose from a Miller runner and Daniel Kidd recovered at the 3-yardline.

Miller got the ball right back three plays later on another Elba punt and once again headed toward the Tigers' goaline.

New Brockton's Mitchell Truitt (21) leaves a G.W. Long defender grabbing nothing but air as he sets sail on a long gainer. Truitt gained 174 yards to spark the Gamecock offense.

New Brockton Gamecocks run over G.W. Long 27-3 to even record at 1-1

By Chris Flowers, Sports Writer

The newly revived New Brockton Gamecocks gave a big home crowd plenty to cheer about last Friday night when they ran over, around and through the G.W. Long Rebels to claim an impressive 27-3 victory in New Brockton.

The win evened the Gamecocks' record at 1-1, while Long slipped to 1-1 with the loss.

New Brockton received the opening kickoff and in just five plays found itself in the endzone.

Mitchell Truitt gained 15 yards on one carry and caught a pass for an 8-yard gain to aid in the scoring drive; however, Bobby Bigger was the workhorse of the march as he gained 32 yards on three carries and drove the score on a one-yard plunge. The extra-point try failed, but with 9:38 still left in the first quarter New Brockton was in front to stay with a 6-0 lead.

G.W. Long's offense was also ready to take a march; however, and drove 53 yards in 12 plays before having to settle for a 35-yard field-goal by Drew Miller that cut the Gamecock lead to 6-3 with 1:54 remaining in the opening quarter.

New Brockton was unimpressed by the Rebels' march to a field-goal and flexed its muscle on a 12 play drive that covered 85 yards and ate up almost seven minutes off the clock.

Bobby Bigger, Mitchell Truitt and Scott Hughes took turns butting heads with the Rebel defense as the trio combined for 77 yards on 10 carries, and it was Bigger that got the touchdown on a 1-yard run.

Truitt ran over for the two-point conversion and with 7:01 left in the half the Gamecocks were on top 14-3.

G.W. Long was determined to answer the Gamecock score and with the aid of a roughing the kicker penalty drove deep into Brockton territory, only to come away empty handed as the Gamecocks recovered a fumble at the 6-yardline to preserve the 14-3 lead.

New Brockton began its first possession of the second half at the Long 46-yardline following a Rebel punt and this time needed only five plays to again reach the endzone.

Mitchell Truitt gained 26 yards on three carries during the drive and got the TD on a 15-yard pass from Scott Hughes. The extra-point was successful, and with 8:00 left in the third quarter New Brockton had taken command with a 21-3 advantage.

The Gamecocks got the ball back late in the quarter on a Rebel punt, however, the punt carried deep into Gamecock territory, and a penalty left New Brockton facing a first down and 15 yards back at its own 14-yardline.

The Gamecocks may have been a long way from the G.W. Long endzone, but it didn't take them long to cover the distance, as on first down Mitchell Truitt got the call and raced 36 yards to bring the Gamecock fans to their feet and blow the game wide open.

The extra-point attempt failed, but with 3:12 left in the third quarter New Brockton was celebrating with a lopsided 27-3 lead.

Long managed to pad his stats in the final quarter as New Brockton began to get its reserves into the game, but the Rebels never reached the endzone, and at the final horn the Gamecocks had the win 27-3.

Mitchell Truitt gained 174 yards on 9 carries, caught 2 passes for 23 yards and scored 2 touchdowns to lead the Gamecock offense, while Bobby Bigger added 43 yards on 6 carries and also scored twice.

Lance Stanford gained 65 yards on 19 carries for G.W. Long.

their next possessions as Benjamin Fox made a recovery for the Bulldogs and Demetric Mallory recovered for the Tigers.

Brantley got another turnover when Jimmy Burnett intercepted a Red Level pass at the Tiger 48, and one play later Marco Jones got the call and rammed 39 yards to the Tiger 12-yardline. Ivan Christian passed to Jimmy Burnett from 12 yards out for the Bulldogs' final score of the night, and although the pass again failed, Brantley was ahead 39-7 with :50 still left in the third quarter.

Red Level added a score with 4:40 left in the game on a 54-yard scamper by Chris Wright on an option, but the extra-point failed, leaving the final margin of the Brantley win at 39-13.

The Brantley offense was led by the inside-outside duo of Charlie Layton and Marco Jones. The speedy Jones gained 160 yards on 8 carries, while the workhorse Layton added 73 yards on 18 totes and scored 4 touchdowns.

The game's leading rusher was Red Level quarterback Chris Wright with 173 yards on 14 carries.

Kinston Bulldogs bite Zion Chapel 7-6

By Cade Shiver, Sports Writer

The Zion Chapel Rebels rolled into Bulldog Stadium last Friday night to face cross-county rival Kinston in an important Class 1A, Area 3 battle, and found the Bulldogs fired up and confident about being able to pull off the upset.

While the Bulldogs were fired up and ready, the Rebels were at the other end of the spirit stick, crippled by an ankle injury to Roy Stewart and a head injury to Napoleon Smith, and forced to make major changes in the line-up that had looked so impressive in a season-opening win over Houston Academy.

The injuries played a factor, however, so did the confidence of the Bulldogs, as Kinston used a tenacious defense and a ball-control offense to claim a 7-6 win and get a leg up on a berth in the 1A playoffs.

Kinston received the opening kickoff and ate up over nine minutes of the clock as the Bulldogs unleashed a powerful running attack that ground out 80 yards in 19 plays. The drive stalled at the Z.C. 4-yardline, however, and the Bulldogs came away empty-handed when on fourth down a 24-yard field-goal try missed wide.

Zion Chapel's offense was anxious to get on the field, and behind the running of Elliot Liprot, responded with a 30-yard drive that also resulted in no points when the Rebels fell short on a fourth down and one at the Kinston 14-yardline.

The Rebels got the ball back on a Bulldog punt at their own 40-yardline and this time wasted little time getting into the endzone as Elliot Liprot capped off the scoring drive with a 14-yard touchdown scamper. An interception by Kinston's Anthony Jones stopped the Rebels' two-point try, leaving Zion Chapel with a 6-0 lead with 7:32 left in the second quarter.

Kinston was more determined than ever following the Zion Chapel score and took the ensuing kick and marched 62 yards to grab the lead. A 35-yard pass from Steven Davis to Danny Day was a key play in the drive, while Michael Harrison got the touchdown on a 2-yard plunge. Anthony Jones booted the extra-point and with 3:35 left in the half Kinston had nosed ahead 7-6.

A pass interception by Zion Chapel's Jeremy Till gave the Rebels a scoring opportunity in the third quarter, but the Kinston defense was up to the challenge and forced a punt. Kinston's ball-control offense regained command following the defensive stand and set sails on a 70-yard drive that ate time off the clock and kept the Rebel offense off the field.

New Brockton homecoming Sept. 30

Monday, September 26 will kick off the New Brockton High School Homecoming festivities. Different activities will be enjoyed by all each day. Some of these activities include: "Paint the Town," float building, hall decorating contests, and the annual Homecoming Parade.

The Homecoming Parade will be September 30 at 2:00 p.m. Interested parties should contact Mrs. Thrasher

HERE COME THE REBELS! Members of the Zion Chapel Rebels were filled with confidence and enthusiasm Friday night as they took to the field to battle the Kinston Bulldogs in Class 1A, Area 3 action.

The drive was stopped as back-to-back quarterback sacks by the Rebels' Kevin Sheets and Kevin Hobbs put the Bulldogs out of field-goal range, and the Bulldogs held on to the slim 7-6 advantage.

Zion Chapel got the ball back late in the game after a gallant defensive stand by the weary Rebel defense, and Zion Chapel kept its hopes alive when Napoleon Smith pulled in a 14-yard pass from Steve Hodge on fourth down and nine, giving the Rebels a first down at the Kinston 23-yardline.

The hopes of the Rebels didn't last long; however, as on the next play Zion Chapel fumbled a pitch-out and the Bulldogs managed to gain possession on the bottom of the pile, ending the threat and giving Kinston the 7-6 win.

Jason Wambles led the powerful Kinston running attack with 124 yards in 31 carries, while Steven Davis hit on 4 of 9 passes for 76 yards.

Anthony Jones made 7 tackles, recovered a fumble and made a pass interception on a two-point try to lead the Bulldog defense.

Back-To-School food safety tips

As children head back to school, many of them will be taking their lunches. If you or your child will be making school lunches, follow these steps to help ensure the food stays safe to eat.

Sandwiches and other typical brown bag components must be kept at the correct temperatures to prevent possible illness-causing bacteria from growing. Sandwiches with items like meats, cheese or mayonnaise can stay out of refrigeration for about two hours and still be safe to eat. After that time, bacteria may have grown to dangerous levels and the food may not be safe to eat. Hot foods in a thermos must remain at or above 140 degrees Fahrenheit to remain safe.

To keep food at correct temperatures, follow these guidelines. First, tuck a frozen gel pack or a frozen

E. Coli 157:H7 hits Alabama hard

E. Coli 0157:H7

Recently E. coli 0157:H7 hit Alabama hard. We have three confirmed cases and one death. The death was a four-year-old from North Alabama. The other individuals were one adult and one child. We have little other information about the individuals.

The facts that I want to relate to you are several. These were isolated cases—there is no known connection between any of the individuals who got sick. They are all from different counties—Colbert, Dallas and Blount. Therefore, it is impossible to say what the source of the E. coli 0157:H7 really was.

E. coli can be found in the feces of all animals. Many think that the only source is hamburger meat but this is not the case. We have had reports of E. coli outbreaks from foods such as apple cider and cantaloupe. You may ask how could one get E. coli from fruits. The answer is not a pleasant one but the facts must be given. When the juice from apples is extracted using a fruit press that has not been properly cleaned (placed in an open area and rodents are allowed to run all over it), is one answer. If the extraction is done by the food industry then the apple cider is pasteurized and the E. coli as well as other bacteria are destroyed. But, for the cider made and sold at roadside stands, it is often not pasteurized. As for cantaloupes, the source of E. coli comes if the grower uses manure to fertilize the crop. Therefore, we need to wash fruits that come in contact with the ground in any way, such as melons or even fruit that is allowed to fall on the ground prior to harvesting.

Meats are the other possible source of E. coli because the animal could harbor the E. coli in their intestines. The problem usually arises with hamburger that is not cooked throughout. The bacteria are found on the surface of the meat and are distributed throughout the meat when it is ground into hamburger. That is also why we are not as concerned about steaks or roasts because they are always cooked well on the surface and the bacteria are not mixed throughout the meat. Other animals such as poultry and pork can also contain the E. coli 0157:H7. But because we have been taught to cook these meats thoroughly, we have no seen as many problems with these meat sources.

Our job as Extension educators is to get the word out about good general hygiene in the kitchen and to be aware of meat served rare in restaurants. To make sure that you or your family do not encounter E. coli or any other deadly bacteria, follow these recommendations:

1. Do not eat rare hamburger. Buy a meat thermometer and cook the hamburger to an internal temperature of 160 degrees.
2. Do not eat rare poultry or pork.
3. Steaks should be cooked well on the surface only.
4. Thoroughly wash all fruits and vegetables that will not be further cooked.
5. Break open hamburgers served to you in any restaurant and make sure the juices are not red but gray or clear. (If you order a rare hamburger you are asking for trouble.)
6. If anyone in your county has the following symptoms of E. coli have them report to a medical doctor immediately: severe abdominal cramps, bloody diarrhea, vomiting and nausea. In rare cases, symptoms may include a low-grade fever.

TELESEMINARS

The College of Engineering is offering a series of teleseminars designed to provide continuing education to the engineering community and to meet the annual recertification need of Professional Engineers. The PRECISE (Professional Registered Engineers Continuing Instruction by Satellite Extension) teleseminars are as follows:

OSHA Updates and Quantitative Methods in Ergonomics Application, October 11, 1994. Instructor: Dr. Rob Thomas, Associate Professor, Industrial Engineering, and Dr. Tony Smith, Professor, Industrial Engineering.

Applied Computational Methods in Structural Analysis, October 18, 1994. Instructor: Dr. Winfred A. Foster, Jr., Associate Professor, Aerospace Engineering.

Fault Analysis in Power Systems, October 25, 1994. Instructor: Dr. Charles A. Gross, Square D Power Professor, Electrical Engineering.

EMA DIRECTOR WEBB SAYS AUDIT FINDINGS NOT UNUSUAL

FEMA's final '90 audit costs city $30,000.00

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

Action at a special Elba City Council meeting Monday evening cost the city treasury over $30,000, but paying that bill got the city government a $50,000 check in return.

The final audit on the 1990 Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) disaster grants resulted in a request Elba repay $30,826, according to Coffee County Emergency Management Director Charles Webb. Elba received over $800,000 in FEMA funds after flood waters from the Pea River and Whitewater Creek broke the levee and flooded downtown Elba in March 1990.

Mr. Webb assured city officials this audit, was not unusual, nor was the repayment of certain federal funds. He explained that FEMA is required by law to do audits on such large disaster grants.

Webb explained that the two large items in this were clearly owed. One was money to buy new air conditioners for city hall, when later examination revealed only repairs were needed. The second was money to pay for freeze-drying flood damaged city records but no bill was ever received for this $5,165 of work.

Webb said Coffee County paid the Texas firm for restoring all county and city records and were reimbursed directly by FEMA for this work.

Webb said these two items accounted for over $20,000 for the money due to be refunded.

He said he felt some of the other items maybe should have been allowed but if the city held up repayment, all future FEMA funds would be withheld until the matter was settled.

Webb had worked with city officials and the Alabama Emergency Management Agency to get the refund reduced from the original audit figure of $107,000. He reported they had formally requested the balance be waived but was told this was not legal.

Webb recommended the city pay the refund, take the $50,798 check FEMA had issued as partial payment for 1994 flood damage and continue appealing some of the other charges. The city council accepted this recommendation.

$38,578 of the new amount will go to pay the contractor who repaired the collapsed sewer line on Troy Highway immediately after the July flood.

City Clerk Henry Clark told council members there was $22,656.60 remaining in the 1990 FEMA account and the city would have to add $8,169.40 to clear the audit and get the new check.

A motion to accept Webb's recommendation was approved unanimously, the check signed and the swap made during the meeting.

In other business, council members were told the city had a request for an additional payment of $3,000 to the Alabama Department of Emergency Management (ADEM) which must approve permitting of the new invert (leaves, tree limbs, etc.) landfill off the Samson Highway, adjoining the old railroad right-of-way.

The council tabled any action on this until Clark can check the matter with the engineering firm managing the permit process for the city.

Clark also informed council members that it will cost the city an additional $218.12 per month to grant a cost of living raise to retired employees who are participants in the city retirement program.

by Marvin McIlwain
Editor

Investigators with the Coffee County Sheriff's Department have broken up a large scale burglary ring operating in a five-county area.

On Tuesday morning, Coffee County Sheriff Mickey Counts and Chief Deputy Ben Moates held a press conference to announce the arrests and to show off numerous stolen items recovered during the investigation.

Individuals who have been arrested so far, in the case are: Jeremy Parker, 18, and Joseph Spangenberg, 18. Both men are from the New Brockton area.

Also, petitions have been signed on seven juveniles ranging in age from 16 to 17 years old. All are boys and from the New Brockton area.

Heading up the investigation were Senior Investigator Leslie Hussey and Investigator Patrick Norris, both of whom are with the Coffee County Sheriff's Department.

The first break in the case, which has been going on for more than two years, came on Monday, September 12.

Investigators received a tip of a possible suspect, a juvenile, in the recent burglaries of Old Stephens Store. This was not the first tip received on this individual.

The youth, whose name was not released due to his juvenile status, was interviewed by Investigators Hussey and Norris. During questioning (on more than one occasion), the suspect finally admitted to involvement in the Old Stephens Store burglary and provided information which led to other individuals.

More questioning by investigators of the other suspects eventually led to the solving of other burglaries which have occurred in towns and cities within in Coffee County.

As Hussey and Norris worked the case, information received from suspects and clues from recovered stolen items eventually led them to burglaries which had occurred in Covington, Dale, Geneva and Pike counties.

Officials from the Enterprise, Elba, New Brockton, Troy, Opp, Ozark, and Samson police departments have been contacted and they have become involved in the investigation.

The burglaries involved stores, automobiles, drink machines, newspaper stands, mini warehouses, new-operated vacuum cleaners, concession stands and one residence.

Also burglarized in Coffee County was the Boy Scout Camp (Camp Alaflo). Items taken were firearms and archery equipment. Some of those items have been recovered.

Police arrest four Opp men in John Wilson murder case

An arrest has been made by the Opp Police Department in connection with the August 15 robbery and murder of an 85-year-old Opp man.

Four individuals, all from Opp, were arrested and charged with first-degree murder and also robbery. They were: Marcus Lerone Cook, age 20; Letterson Dion Stoudemire, age 18; and a 15-year-old whose name was not released because he's a juvenile.

The man, John D. Wilson, was allegedly beaten and severely injured during a robbery at a home located on Mullins Street in Opp. He later died (August 26) in a Dothan hospital as a result of those injuries.

Reportedly, he was summonsed to the residence to cash checks for some people there.

According to police officials, the men charged with the murder either struck Wilson in the head or pushed him head first into a wall or some other solid object.

Sources close to the case stated that other arrests could possibly be made in connection with the murder.

The four men were placed in the Covington County Jail in Andalusia under $150,000 bond.

Assisting the Opp police in the investigation were law enforcement officers from the Alabama Bureau of Investigation; the Covington County District Attorney's Office; and the Elba Police Department.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Wilson was the father of Chris Head, wife of District Judge Thomas Head.)

Elba's BOE tables action on expelling student

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

The Elba City School Board emerged from an executive session, pertaining to an expelled student, in their regular September meeting and tabled any formal action until Superintendent Charles Pearce had time to supply board members with additional information.

The board approved employing Ricky Carlisle for a half day teaching job in the math department. Pearce told board members this was a "good problem," the kind of problem he liked to see because it means more students are wanting to be involved in higher mathematics than any time since he has been in the school system.

Pearce said the enrollment at the high school is up and the minimum program increase from the state will cover this extra half salary.

Mrs. Rhonda Little was approved for a leave of absence until October 28th, following the birth of her baby.

The board gave final approval to the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) erosion control project which will cost a total of $86,250 with the school furnishing only $17,250. Work should begin the last of September or the first of October, according to SCS officials.

"The Elba system has the highest percent of advanced degrees in the state of Alabama!"

The bridge to connect the school park with Taylor Mill Road has been cleared to move forward. The approval of a delay, due to the flooding, of the pedestrian path from the 203 Bypass to the school cleared the way for the bridge to move forward immediately.

Pearce said the State Highway Department will let the bids. County Engineer Mark Poole will inspect the project as it progresses.

"In the immediate future" was the words Pearce used to describe the timetable for beginning this construction project.

vanced degrees of any school system in the state of Alabama!"

Reviewing the financial statement showed the system should end the school year with a balance of $1,114. This is within several hundred dollars of the projection made by Pearce in the school budget submitted to the Alabama Department of Education one year ago.
